What to do with it:

Sweet corn, parsnips, and carrots are the only items that need to be refrigerated unless you like cold apples! And who doesn't!! It's sort of an end of summer and beginning of fall share this week! So enjoy the transition!

What's happening:

It's beginning to look a lot like fall around here! The boys have made the corn shocks and have begun bringing in some pumpkins!! They planted all of the strawberries last week and they are looking good! Hoping for a good strawberry season next year.

On behalf of all of us here at the farm we'd like to thank you for giving us this opportunity to bring you farm fresh produce every week or every other week! We hope you have enjoyed it as much as we enjoy putting the shares together! We don't close till early November! Julie still has lots of tomatoes and pepper in her fields and we'll have lots of fall decorations too! Johnny's corn will be here until mid-September!

THANK YOU
